LEPROSY OF THE JEWS.
A WILD BURNING ITCH THAT STRIKES
WITH A THOUSAND ELECTRICITCHING NEEDLES.

Editor Alloona (Pa.) Cull. I wish to say something in praise of that valuable medicine. Curturna, which I saw advertised in your paper. I have had that old leprosy of which you read in the Bible, where the Jews first got it among them and did not know how to cure it. It has many other English names. I have had it on my body for over sixty years. No doctor could tell me what it was, and probably I never would have known had I not seen the advertisement in your valuable paper. First it is a scaly affection of the skin; next it looks like barmacles on a vessel's bottom, or an old log that has hald in the water for a long time, and just the same in my feet, knees, and elbows; and by taking a microscope and looking at me it looks werse. In other words, we will call it lehthyosis, or fish-skin; then comes on what I call the wild-burning itch, that will strike you with a thousand electric-itchy needles. You cannot tell

WHERE TO SCRATCH FIRST. WHERE TO SCHATCH FIRST.

You then have to run out into the open sir to get relieved. Why, it is dreadful; and having so many eminent doctors and none knowing what to do for you; but I have found the lost trensure at last. It did not take two spoonfuls of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT before it took that burning itch by the throat and bid them to hold off, and it is off. My flesh is becoming softer, my hair is becoming soft and sibty; and I then got to using external applications—CUTICURA SOAR—and annoint the parts with CUTICURA. If the thousands knew the goodness of this medicine as I do they would not be twenty-four hours without it. It is not only adapted to my case. But to all others; and fany one disbelieves this, let him stopnext door to the Logan House here. take my microscope, and see for himself.

of the Board that they need have no hesitation in calling him back should any further emergency arise.

AN ENABLING ACT WANTED.

The Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund yesterday addressed a letter to the Hon. John Randolph Tucker, chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives, urging that he have a law passed at this session of Congress authorizing an appeal to the Supreme Court of the rights or interest of any State shall be be found to have this decision of the Circuit Court reviewed by the United States Supreme Court. There are ways to do it independent of an act as suggested above, or of habeas corpus in case of contempt.

The Board have telegraphed to Hon. Waller R. Staples at Christiansburg, and engaged his services in this litiga-

Treatise on the Health and Happiness of | So, not only will the State have the benefit of the services of her Attorney General, but of ex-Judge Staples, and these gentlemen will be heartily backed by Governor Cameron and the Board in all their efforts to execute the laws of Virgina; and if a time comes when the Legislature can be of service it will unonbtedly be called together.

Judge Staples will be here Wednes The above-referred-to circular has been sent out to all the treasurers, &c ..

Assistant-Treasurer Tinsley was not at his office vesterday; he was unwell It is the desire and request of the Board that neither Mr. Greenhow nor Mr. Tinsley act in this matter until Judge Staples arrives and is consulted.

In a case similar to, but even more far-reaching, than Edward Parsons's, the Attorney-General has returned the following answer to petition:

IN THE UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA.

To the Honorable Judge Thereof :

Morton Marye, Auditor of the State of Virginia; Samuel C. Greenhow, Treasurer of the city of Richmond; A. L. Hill, Treasurer of the city of Norfolk V. G. Dunnington, Treasurer of the city of Lynchburg; R. B. Munford, Commissioner of the Revenue for the city of Richmond; Charles W. Price, Commissioner of the Revenue for the city of Lynchburg; and Charles D. Langley, Commissioner of the Revenue for the city of Norfolk, to a petition filed in your honorable court by George Parsons, say that the said court has no jurisdiction of the amount in controversy, because the difference be tween the coupons named in the petition or bill and the securities into which they are interchangeable by law, under the act of the Legislature of Virginia approved February 14, 1882, commonly known as the Riddleberger act, is less in value than $500, the mini cause the said supposed contract under the funding act of 1870-'71, under which the said coupons were issued. cannot be enforced, nor the relief sought be awarded, in a suit to which the State of Virginia is not a party, but which is brought against officers, who

That at the time the coupons were issued under the act of 1870-'71 no statutes or judicial decision had authorized a suit against the State of Virginia in the courts of the United States by a citizen of another State ;

Because the money in the State Treasury of Virginia is her own property, held by her officers, not in trust for her creditors, nor as their agents, but as her servants; and that the Federal courts cannot contrôl such State officers in the administration of State finances, and thus oust the jurisdiction of the political power of the State;

That the act of the General Assen bly of Virginia approved —— day of ——, 1884, found in Acts of 1884-'85, which requires license-taxes to be paid in gold, silver, United States Treasury or national-bank notes only, withdrew from the officers of the State and the defendants in this suit the power and means of carrying the said supposed contract under the funding act of 1870'71 into effect, or complying with the prayer of said bill or petition without a violation of their oaths and bonds of office.

Without waiving said pleas, but insisting thereon, the defendants demur to said petition because they say it is insufficient in law. Because the said proceeding is by mere petition for a restraining, and not by a bill in equity for a restraining order or injunction, according to the forms and modes of procedure, as required by section 913 of United States Satutes at large, chapter 18, found in Bump on Federal procedure, 625; dure, 625;

Because the said petition is multifa-rious and obnoxious to the objection of misjoinder; because it asks relief in be-half of the petitioner, George Parsons, as well as other tax-payers, with whom he makes arrangements for the transfer

Because the treasurers of the cities above named-of Richmond, Norfolk, and Lynchburg-with the commiss ers of the revenue, are joined with the Auditor of the State as parties defendant, although they represent separate and distinct territories and jurisdicons, separate and distinct tax-payers, tions, separate and distinct tax-payers and each treasurer is in no wise connected with the business affairs of the others, making out a clear case, both of misjoinder and multifariousness;

Because the petition on its face stek to make out a case for the specific formance of a contract with the Com monwealth which is unwarranted by

Because, although by the rules of equity the province of an injunction is to prevent or restrain a threatened wrong, yet in this case it is sought to be substituted for a mandamus to com-pel the officers of the State to receive said coupons, and the defendants, without waiving their said demurrer, but insisting thereon for answer to said petition, say that the said coupons were not verified to be genuine by a verdict of a jury, and the judgment of the court as required by either the act of 14th January, 1882, or that of 26th of June, 1882, found in Acts of 1881-'82, the first of which acts was declared to be constitutional and to furnish a complete remedy to the tax-payers, by the Supreme Court of the United States in Antoni vs. Greenhow-107 U. S. R., 769; and the later act of the 26th January, 1882, was in effect declared to be constitutional and to afford a sufficient remedy by the Supreme Court in the case of Tennessee similar bill from Tennessee was considered along with one from which the act of the 14th of January was patterned.

Further answering, respondents say that the said suit is an invasion of the sovereign rights of the State of Virginia, and will be a usurpation on the part of the Federal Court if entertained. That the said petition or bill is legal nondescript, unauthorized by any known rules of pleading or practice. and, as before stated, seeks to compel the executive officers and ministerial officers of the State to violate the plain law of the State, although they have taken an oath of office and executed a bond with sureties that they would obey, and enforce its constitutional laws. Respondents know nothing of the matter of fact contained in the said petition, and they do not admit any of them, but call on the petitioner for strict proof thereof. Respondents would further show that the said bill is a legal fraud on the jurisdiction of the Federal Court, because the petition on its face shows that as if purpose the amount sued for is by purpose the amount sued for is $4,998, which is two dollars less than the minimum jurisdictional sum required to be heard by the Supreme venting a review of the decision of this court by any appellate tribunal. And now having fully answered, the prayer of the respondents is that the said petition be dismissed and the restraining order be dissolved with costs.

Private Theatrical. "No Cure, No Pay," a pleasing little farce for seven female characters, was presented at an east Franklin-street residence Friday night by some beautiful young ladies of Richmond under the direction of Miss Mildred Frazer, of Boston. The young ladies taking part were Miss Mary Richardson, Miss Mary Cannon, Miss Mary Quarles, Miss Loulie Evans, Miss Nellie Parker, and Miss Carrie Leftwitch. This was their second performance of the play, the first having been given on Tuesday last. They are all to be congratulated for the manner in which they acquitted themselves upon the amateur stage. Miss Frazer as Aunt Midget was simply inimitable. She played the character of the old woman to the life.
